

Choosing Joy Website Concept

Publisher Presentation Document

Project Positioning

The site is designed to feel like a book launch page combined with a speaker platform. It communicates credibility, personal story, mission, and audience potential in a format that is easy for a publisher to evaluate.

Tone: Warm, credible, reflective, faith-centered, and leadership-oriented.

Color Palette

Site Goals

- Introduce the book clearly and establish immediate thematic relevance.
- Present the author as both personable and authoritative on the topic.
- Capture launch-list signups and speaking and media inquiries.
- Demonstrate platform readiness to a prospective publisher.

Page-by-Page Experience

Page 1 — Home

Purpose: Introduce the book, establish credibility, and capture interest.

- Hero Section: two-column layout with book title, subtitle, positioning statement, and launch-list call to action.
- Live-site hero visual direction: collage image with overlay line, “Join the movement.”
- Book Message section: “Why Choosing Joy Matters,” opening with the idea that pain is universal, but staying stuck is not inevitable.
- Credibility cards: A Message of Healing, Community Leadership, and A Movement Toward Joy.
- Author feature: “Meet the Author,” combining pastoral insight, personal experience, and leadership positioning.
- Call to Action: teal background, white text, email field, and Join the List button.

Page 2 — About

Purpose: Help the publisher understand the book and the author platform.

- About the Book: audience framing for readers navigating loss, uncertainty, or personal transition.
- Reader outcomes: facing difficult seasons honestly, letting go, reclaiming identity and purpose, and moving forward with courage and hope.
- The Story Behind the Message: lived experience, leadership, speaking, mentoring, and community engagement.
- Beyond the Book: speaking engagements, community leadership, faith-based mentorship, and audience development.

Page 3 — Contact

Purpose: Allow publishers, event planners, and readers to connect.

- Contact intro that invites speaking engagements, media interviews, partnership opportunities, and release updates.
- Contact cards for email, speaking availability, and media discussions.
- Contact form fields: Name, Email, and Message, with a Send Message button.
- Footer content: DB Ventures, Home, About, Contact, and © DB Ventures.

Site Folder Skeleton

The front-end skeleton has been expanded to include a lightweight data layer for storing launch-list signups and contact form submissions. This makes the concept easier to evaluate as a real, buildable publishing asset.

Recommended Signup Data Model

Recommended production option: PostgreSQL, because it is simple, reliable, and flexible enough to support launch-list growth, speaking inquiries, analytics integrations, and future CRM syncing.

Visual Layout Skeleton

Publisher Value Summary

- The site clearly communicates the book's promise and positioning.
- The author platform is presented in a way that supports credibility and marketability.
- The signup database creates a practical bridge between concept and launch execution.
- The three-page structure is lean, persuasive, and easy to build, review, and iterate.